RISING STARS

In some comics, heroes start with a few powers and learn more as they mature. This is especially appropriate if the supers are younger individuals. Heroes in these types of campaigns start with a certain number of Power Points depending on the Power Level of the campaign. Rising Stars may take the Power Points Edge (no more than once per Rank as usual) to add additional points to their existing abilities, or new ones (there is no New Power Edge).

- Power Level Table

Power Limit:
Characters may never spend more than the Power Points in any power (total, after all are accounted for).
